

“I came to work at the Assault Response & Care Centre because I truly believe in gender equality and the hope of a future without violence. I stay because of the incredible team of compassionate, dedicated women and the inspiration and teaching I have received from our clients.”